REPATRIATION OR RACE RIOTS?

NATIONAL FRONT
53, Greencroft Towers,
Felling, Gateshead 10.

FOR FIVE HOURS ON THE NIGHT OF WEDNESDAY 2nd APRIL THE POLICE ABANDONED THE RESIDENTS OF ST. PAULS, BRISTOL, TO THE MERCY OF A RIOTING, LOOTING, FIRE-RAISING MOB OF BLACK HOODLUMS.

IT'S TIME TO STOP RUNNING, WHITE MAN!

For five hours a large district of a major British city had ceased to be a part of the British realm. St. Pauls became a jungle kingdom ruled by savages.

Before the Police had even begun to re-assert British national sovereignty over the area, Community Relations 'experts', soppy Vicars and politicians hungry for Black votes were rushed onto the TV to declare:

"This was not so much a race riot as a spontaneous eruption of violence on the part of the Black community . . . it was a protest against unemployment . . ."

A Baptist Minister claimed that it was not a race riot because he had been in the riot area and had not been attacked. But his experience was not shared by other White people.

"FRIGHTENED TO DEATH"

Firemen were stoned. A local publican who refused to give his name told the Press that he feared for the lives of his family and himself.

Mrs. Kathleen Lee was driving through the area as the rioting erupted. Bottles were hurled at her vehicle. "I was frightened to death. I thought they were going to kill me," she said.

The Western Daily Press reported:

"With the Police retreat completed from City Road hundreds of people filled the street. Some youngsters later attacked passing vehicles, kicking in door panels, hurling stones and smashing bus windows."

Britain has seen race riots before — at the Notting Hill 'Carnival' for example — so what made the St. Paul's riot so shocking?

Not the scenes of Policemen running away from the mob. 'Strategic withdrawals' are a common sense action on the part of a small force when confronted by a very much bigger force.

What was shocking was the top level decision to abandon the residents of St. Paul's not just for an hour or so, but for five hours.

This long waiting period was not necessitated by the need to bring in a greater number of Police. That could have been done within an hour. The decision, therefore, was not so much operational as political.

A Police spokesman said: "The presence of uniformed Policemen was aggravating the situation."

POLICE DEMORALISATION

Such a statement is redolent with demoralisation and caused dismay among Policemen and law abiding public throughout the nation.

It is symptomatic of the 'low profile' Community Relations induced thinking that has captivated so many top Policemen of late.

The uniform of a Police officer should be the symbol of law and order, of the will of the authorities to uphold the Queen's Peace. The suggestion — by the Police — that the sight of its uniform is the cause of trouble is subversive of their own role and provides a spurious 'moral' justification for rioters.

The fact that the Police did not move to re-assert law and order in St. Paul's as soon as they had regrouped in sufficient force indicates that they were frightened — not so much of the mob, but of politicians, the Community Relations loud-mouths and the media.

The Police did not want to 'mix it' with the St. Paul's rioters because they knew the pro-multi-racialist mass media would depict them not as guardians of society but as "racist thugs oppressing Black people."

So the innocent residents of St. Paul's had to suffer terror, anarchy, arson and looting because the Police have been intimidated by a political Establishment which puts "good race relations" before the rule of law.

'DANEGLD' NO ANSWER

Community Relations spokesmen are now echoing warnings about a looming race war in Britain that we and Enoch Powell were denigrated for uttering more than a decade ago.

"We must spend more money on the Black community," say the multi-racialist renegades.

We say that the payment of 'DaneGLD' only stimulates greater demands — a fact learned by our Anglo-Saxon forebears before King Alfred united them to drive marauding alien invaders from our land.

The only thing that will prevent a race war in Britain is the repatriation of the Immigrants and their offspring to their lands of ethnic origin.

A 'cruel policy'? Not so cruel as race war! Ask the people of St. Paul's!

CENSUS CONSPIRACY TO HIDE RACE FACTS

LEFT WING groups have joined with the media and the Government in a conspiracy to hide from the British people the real size of the alien Immigrant population in our country. Questions on ethnic origin will be dropped from the coming Population Census.

For years successive Governments have deliberately duped the public by saying that there were "only 1.7 million Immigrants in Britain."

The reason they were able to get away with this outrageous deception was because of the way the Government decided to define who is an "Immigrant."

What the Government has done over the years is define an Immigrant as a person who was born outside Britain and who had not lived in Britain for more than ten years.

Thus all aliens born outside Britain who have settled in our country for more than ten years — and all their children — were not categorised as "Immigrants" but as part of the indigenous population.

This statistical trick enabled the Government each year to level down the actual number of non-British aliens and their offspring living in our country.

This diabolical hoax would have been exposed in the forthcoming 1981 Government Population Census, because the census would require respondents to state the ethnic origins of themselves and other persons living in their households.

SYSTEMATIC LIES

This information, once collated, would have proved that successive Conservative and Labour Governments have been systematically lying to the British people concerning the true extent of the alien occupation of their land over the past decade.

The question of ethnic origin was included in a test census conducted in the London Borough of Haringey in April 1979. Unlike the national census, this scheme was purely voluntary.

Before this test census was held, the Office of Population Censuses and Surveys had meetings with over 50 race relations and other groups including the Communist Party.

At these meetings they were informed of the decision to include the question of ethnic origin instead of the more usual, but now very complex, question of nationality.

In the period leading up to this test census many of these groups, in collaboration with local newspapers, London radio stations and other media, launched an organised campaign to disrupt this scheme by implying that the replies could be used as the basis for a new Nationality Law.

The Office of Population Censuses and Surveys stated in its report that: "Co-operation from the public was seriously affected by an organised campaign which was given considerable publicity in the media."

As a result of this orchestrated campaign, and because the test was voluntary a lower reply rate was achieved than is usual for such a test.

However Haringey was chosen "partly because its multi-occupancy provides a stringent test of the field arrangements and partly because it had a wide mix of ethnic groups" — so a lower reply rate would have been expected anyway!

15% NOT CONTACTED

In fact part of the reason for the low rate was because this voluntary survey could not contact 15% of the households. In a compulsory scheme this would not happen.

Even if some Immigrants failed to reply in the nationwide compulsory census, enough would have done so to totally discredit the Government's figures on our Immigrant population.

However the Government, seizing on the return for the voluntary test survey, announced that because of opposition from left wing and community relations groups it was going to drop the ethnic question from the 1981 census "in case it affected the number of replies to the census as a whole."

Because the ethnic origin question was being used to replace more usual questions, there will now be no questions at all to indicate nationality, or parents' place of birth.

The dropping of this question will not only mean that, once again, the actual size of our Immigrant population will be hidden by a Government inspired conspiracy, it also means that much other information about coloured groups in this country is being concealed.

This census would have also indicated such factors about various Immigrant groups as fertility, age structure and employment.

The Government has cynically used a group of left wing and race relations groups to ensure that these revealing statistics are not going to be collected, so that they can carry on their lying to the British people.

WHY BRISTOL RIOT WAS A SURPRISE

UNTIL the Bristol riot on 2nd April few people associated West Country towns with racial violence. The reason why so many people were surprised by the Bristol riot is because of the systematic suppression of information by the Press and TV over the years.

The Bristol riot was, in fact, only a somewhat bigger version of a similar riot which took place in nearby Gloucester on 23rd November 1969! On that occasion a Police patrol was ambushed by 200 West Indians who resented being told to quieten down a party. Eventually 150 Police and dogs were required to quell the riot. Seven Police were hospitalised. Gangs of Blacks toured the area wrecking cars belonging to White people.

NF News seeks to persuade its readers to feel angry about the evils of multi-racialism and to direct their anger solely to the corrupt politicians who created a racial problem in Britain, and not to the Immigrant people in general. "Racialism" is NOT unlawful - only "racial hatred".

Only the local Western Daily Press reported this. The Telegraph, Times, Guardian, Mirror, Mail and Sun suppressed news of the riot. The (now defunct) Sketch gave the story three inches, but did not mention Immigrants. The Express hinted at Immigrant involvement in a two-inch report. No reports were carried by the TV or radio.

A multi-racial society was foisted on the British people by stealth on the part of politicians, and by lies and suppressions on the part of mass media journalists. Any social order that has to be introduced by stealth and upheld by lies is a conspiracy that is doomed to eventual failure. When the British people finally wake up and demand revenge, we will direct them to seek it in Fleet Street.

BRITAIN FACES "ECONOMIC EARTHQUAKE"

"THE GOVERNMENT'S present policies will rapidly depress and permanently weaken the British economy without necessarily reducing inflation. Literally interpreted they would cause the economy to collapse within a year or two."

This is the opinion of the two leading members of the prestigious Cambridge Economic Policy Group which has produced a thorough analysis of Britain's economic position.

Their analysis accords with predictions made by the National Front over many years.

The basic cause of this catastrophic situation, according to this group are:

"The high rate of exchange for sterling, by accentuating long-standing adverse trends in exports and in import penetration will reduce income and employment.

"It will lead to increased public sector borrowing because, with lower income, the tax yield will fall.

"There is then only one way in which the Government can fulfil the commitment to keep down public borrowing - it must raise tax rates and cut public expenditure, thus aggravating recession.

"Since the external and internal forces making for recession are mutually reinforcing under these policies, there is no reason why the depression should bottom out."

IMPORTS UP 20%

The major problem, as they see it, is thus the loss of a secure home market for our products. In fact, they argue that this has already been happening; pointing out that imports of manufactured goods rose 20% between 1978 and 1979.

They go on to state that:

"It is true that the Government has itself predicted a period of rising unemployment arguing, however, that this will create the conditions essential for sustainable growth once inflation has been squeezed out of the system.

"But as we have maintained for years, growth can only be sustainable if our manufacturing industry is allowed to compete successfully in world markets including most particularly our own market.

"Without North Sea oil the adverse trends in our trade would by now have reached a critical point: if the oil had not come in just when it did, the balance of trade in manufactures could no longer have supported our food, energy and raw material import needs and an extremely severe recession would have already arrived."

Instead of taking the very necessary measures to expand British industry, the Government, in its blind adherence to monetarist policies, has in fact been doing the reverse. Thus:

INDUSTRY DESTROYED

"The profitability of exports has been sharply reduced and import penetration encouraged, so that instead of creating conditions under which manufacturing industries can compete and expand, conditions have been created under which large segments of industry are in the process of being destroyed.

"The prospect of absolute and self-reinforcing decline has thus been brought forward several years and is now overtaking us.

"The Government's principal justification for all this is the priority it attaches to reducing inflation. Any hope that the rate of inflation may come down next year rests entirely on the exchange rate holding up to its present absurd level.

"If this were to happen, the price paid for a slowdown of inflation would have been the wholesale destruction of British industry. Realistically the exchange rate cannot hold indefinitely at its present level."

The final conclusions of these two leading economists, as a result of this analysis, portrays a terrifying economic prospect:

"In the short term, chaos seems assured with severe recession, loss of financial control by the Government and on top of everything, high inflation.

3 MILLION JOBLESS

"Finding a recovery strategy in these circumstances is a bit like trying to plan the rebuilding of a city that is in the process of being shattered by an earthquake."

Other economic advisory groups have been reaching similar gloomy conclusions. The Manpower Research Group at the University of Warwick, for example, estimate that unemployment will rise to something between 2.7 million and 3.3 million by 1985.

Already as a result of the Government's policies many firms are facing bankruptcy with the loss of jobs for their entire workforces.

While even a vital industry like the British Steel Corporation, on which such a huge part of British industry depends, is now planning vast redundancies and was recently referred to by Margaret Thatcher as "one of yesterday's industries."

The result of such a rapid collapse of Britain's industries is only now beginning to worry the Establishment in this country, not because of the misery that will be brought to the homes of millions of British workers, but because they now see their own position threatened.

When NF News published a front page feature in June, 1978, headed: 'ECONOMIC DECLINE + RACIAL CHAOS = NF ROAD TO POWER' we were accused of publishing "propaganda alarmism" designed to boost NF morale.

But now Malcolm Crawford, Economics Editor of the thoroughly pro-Establishment Sunday Times, stated on 30th March this year:

"What are the risks to British society? It is fanciful, no doubt, to envisage Brown Shirts and Red Brigades coming out on the streets.

"It may be tendentious to predict that Britain might join those nations whose most successful members must protect themselves and their property behind barbed-wire and armed guards.

"All this is no doubt a worst-possible scenario. But it is one the Government should be thinking about."

Two days later St. Pauls, Bristol, exploded.

The Government is thinking about "the worst possible scenario" - which is why the Commons Select Committee on Home Affairs is preparing new Public Order, Election and Race Relations laws designed to protect the Establishment from "the menace of the National Front."

'REPUBLICAN' OR 'DEMOCRAT' - ZIONISTS SET TO WIN U.S. ELECTIONS - AGAIN

TO BE a successful American politician of either party, and especially a prospective Presidential candidate, you have to be 'in' with the two principal wielders of power and patronage.

You have to be 'in' with what is loosely termed the 'Eastern Establishment', that elite group of liberal internationalists and policy makers dominated by the Rockefellers and other Wall Street financial interests; and you have to be 'in' with the Jews.

Naturally, all the leading candidates in the 1980 Presidential primaries are 'in'.

The rise of President Carter, again seeking the Democratic nomination, was a classic illustration of how the international financial establishment backs Presidential contenders in

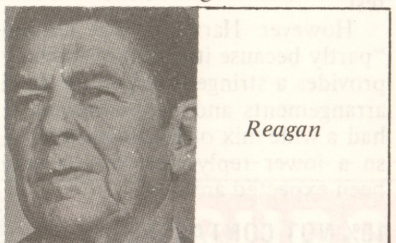

Carter

"Rockefeller, with the help of Zbigniew Brzezinski, was then establishing the Trilateral Commission, which has become a prestigious forum of international bankers and leading businessmen..."

According to Carter adviser Peter Bourne, Rockefeller and Brzezinski "immediately agreed that Carter was the ideal politician to build on."

Carter then went through a crash programme of 'foreign policy' lessons from the Trilateral Commission, the Rockefeller-controlled Council on Foreign Relations and both camps.

In 1976, American voters had a 'choice' between Nelson Rockefeller's man, Republican Gerald Ford, or David Rockefeller's man, Democrat Jimmy Carter. The simple peanut farmer was elected, but where had this nonentity come from? Lawrence Stern of the Washington Post reported:

"Until 1973, Carter's credentials in foreign policy matters were limited... Late in the fall of 1973, he was invited to dine in London with David Rockefeller of the Chase Manhattan Bank during one of his trade promotion visits.

the Brookings Institution.

Carter was soon lecturing on the need to replace "balance of power politics with world order politics" (i.e. replace nations with a World Government).

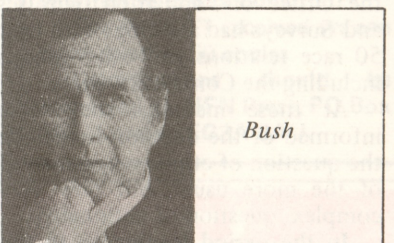

In the course of Carter's political education he picked up the largest clutch of Jewish advisers ever to pack the White House, his top aides being Chief Domestic Adviser Stuart Eizenstat, Counsel to the President Robert Lipschutz, and 'image maker' Gerry Rafshoon. Over eighty per cent of Carter's Cabinet posts went to Zionist Jews.

It is now certain that Carter will win the Democratic nomination. All he has to do is successfully appease the enormously powerful Jewish lobby, which was greatly upset by the recent anti-Israel vote in the UN cast by the American Ambassador.

Carter and his campaign manager Robert Strauss have been busy assuring top Zionists that this vote was "a mistake", whilst Carter is hoping to ingratiate himself with American Jewry still more by inviting Begin and Sadat to a Camp David Mark II summit amid a blaze of Rafshoon-organised media publicity.

The only serious 'alternative' to Carter for the Democratic nomination was the nauseating Edward Kennedy.

An Eastern Establishment Harvard liberal and internationalist to the core, Kennedy has been sucking up to Blacks, Browns, Yellows, Mexicans, Puerto Ricans and Jews with even more zeal than Carter, in repulsive minority-oriented speeches penned by "Bostonian" Irving Lowenstein.

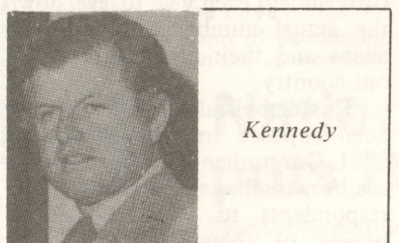

His complete domination by Council on Foreign Relations advisers and Trilateral Commission think-tankers is only exceeded by his total subservience to the Zionist lobby.

A last attempt to salvage his flagging campaign was the creation of a "Rabbi for Kennedy Committee" in the New York primary.

The system of primary elections can cause problems for the international financial establishment where the Republican party is concerned, since a popular vote tends to allow the occasional right-winger to slip through the net.

For this reason the Rockefeller-Wall Street crowd heavily promoted the candidacy of George Bush to counter popular support for Ronald Reagan.

Bush, like Carter, was personally selected and groomed by David Rockefeller and underwent the same training in World Government politics from the Council on Foreign Relations and the Trilateral Commission. He is loudly pro-Zionist and utters speeches written by someone called Alvin Saltzman.

Even further to the left is Republican outsider John Anderson. His short-lived success received huge puffs from the Zionist-controlled media.

This "darling of East Coast sophisticates" is a typical opportunist who was elected to Congress in 1961 as an "anti-communist", and now stands for ratification of the SALT treaty, the scrapping of the neutron bomb, cuts in defence spending and compulsory 'bussing' to multi-racial schools. Mercifully, he is out of the race.

The undoubted Republican Presidential candidate is to be Ronald Reagan. Reagan is a sincere anti-communist, but his record as Governor of California gives the best indication of his fundamental liberalism.

Before his election he furiously denounced welfare handouts to minorities, yet under his eight-year reign welfare payments rocketed.

He promised to slash taxes, yet sponsored the biggest tax increases in California history.

He promised to crack down on red disrupters at university; but all he did was double the funding of the State colleges.

Even more significant is Reagan's team of advisers.

Just as Carter inherited the permanent bureaucracy of 'Democratic' Jewish advisers from the Johnson era, so Reagan is surrounded by the permanent bureaucracy of 'Republican' Jewish advisers from the Nixon era.

Chief among these are William Simon and Alan Greenspan. Reagan's running-mate is likely to be Rockefeller stooge George Bush.

Carter or Reagan, Big Business and Zionism are going to win yet again!

GOVERNMENT ALLOWS FOREIGN FLEETS TO MURDER BRITISH FISHING INDUSTRY

ONE of the most remarkable 'achievements' of recent Tory and Labour Governments is to preside over the slow death of the British fishing industry. It is a measure of their treachery and neglect that the industry stands face to face with financial ruin.

Our trawler fleets have been decimated by events since the end of the Cod War with Iceland.

Driven out of the Northern hemisphere, they have been committed to the Common Market's Common Fisheries policy, denied realistic support from Government and finally crushed by an avalanche of foreign imports.

Dr. Lyon Dean, Chairman of the Herring Industry Board, claims:

"The reasons have been enumerated times without number, but at the bottom is the single factor. Britain is no longer in charge of her own destiny. Big Brother in Brussels is now arbiter of our fate and our future lies in alien hands."

In 1966, The Economist feared that "up to 60 trawlers will be made redundant, a fifth of the deep water fleet. But this may be an exaggeration."

It wasn't — it was a considerable underestimate. The number of British trawlers has plummeted from 237 in 1976 to 146 last year.

The Scottish East Coast port of Granton closed in 1978.

The mighty port of Hull, once the major fishery port of Western Europe, lies decimated for all to see.

Twenty years ago 140 deep sea trawlers sailed out of Hull. Today it has just 25 freezer trawlers, some of which may never fish again.

The Hull Fishing Vessel Owners Association has gone into liquidation because of its lack of hope for the future.

Fleetwood had 39 trawlers in 1978; it has 19 today. Two of the biggest, Boston Beverley and Boston Blenheim, have been sold to Chile.

The loss of labour in our deep sea fleet and its dependent industries is close on 30,000.

The surrender of Britain's fishing rights in her own waters is the direct result of entry into the Common Market as the EEC Common Fisheries Policy laid down equal access for all members of the Community to European waters.

More than 60% of these waters are British yet Britain only gets 24% of the fish taken from all EEC waters!

Britain could obtain 70 per cent of that allocation from her own waters within a 200 mile protected which would have none of the European overtures.

While 30,000 men have been lost to the British deep sea fishing industry, our Government allows foreign factory ships like this to sweep our waters clean.

Today Norway controls her resources within a 200 mile limit and uses it as a national asset while the EEC nations have used their resource and are now using ours to its ultimate destruction.

The British Government has just scratched up a paltry £3 million "aid" which is an insult to the needs of the industry. The Norwegian Government has earmarked £75 million for the first four months of this year alone!

The final blow is now coming in massive imports of foreign fish. Britain's fish trade gap last year reached a staggering £170 million.

Imports of fish more than doubled last year. The 43,885 tonnes imported in January this year compares with 20,807 in January last year. This is nearly ten times the amount landed by our vessels in the seven major deep sea ports in the same month.

207,000 tonnes of edible white fish have been imported into Britain during 1979 which could have been supplied by the UK fleet, often hawked around our markets below cost of capture.

Subsidies, over-fishing of quotas, dumping — all conspire to create a situation where large quantities of British fresh fish are now being sold as fish meal or not sold at all. To exclude foreign fish would be "illegal" under EEC rules.

This is just the beginning of the sorry story of the deliberate murder of Britain's fishing industry by Tory and Labour Governments.

"LABOUR CARES" FOOTNOTE

The Labour Research Department exists to supply facts and figures on "major industries" to its subscribers. A subscriber who asked for details on the fish industry was informed with disarming frankness: "Please note, we have no information on the British Fishing Industry."

British trawlers such as this are an increasingly rare sight — even in British waters — because of successive British Governments' betrayals

British fishermen toil to haul in their catch. Thanks to EEC rules, these valuable men face the dole fishing limit similar to limits sensibly established by fishing nations outside the EEC.

"There are more fish in the sea than ever came out of it" is an adage that no longer applies.

Massive over-fishing by our European "partners" of both European and Atlantic waters means that the number of hours a trawler must stay at sea to catch the same number of fish is increasing.

Compare our plight with the prosperity of the Norwegian industry

TOT SEES MONSTERS HURL MOTHER TO DEATH

Five year old Maria Vieira saw her Mum die

Mother of four Mrs. Maria Vieira

The body of Mrs. Vieira lying in an alley after she had been hurled from a second floor window

FIVE year old Maria Vieira stood helpless and sobbing as a gang of three Black men picked up her mother and hurled her out of a second floor window.

Maria's mother, Mrs. Maria Vieira, died instantly when she hit the ground 40 feet below. One of Mrs. Vieira's feet was impaled in railings.

The three savages burst into the Vieiras' Paddington, West London, home on 6th March shouting "Where is the money!" after having attacked an elderly woman who lived in the downstairs flat.

Mrs. Vieira was unable to answer the muggers' questions as she was Portuguese and knew no English. Enraged by her "unhelpfulness" the robbers threw her out of the window to relieve their frustration.

The only loot that the gang were able to find was Mrs. Vieira's handbag. When they eventually fled from the flat they rifled the bag and then threw it under a car before running away in different directions.

It is believed that two other members of the gang — also Black — kept watch outside the house and gave warning of the arrival of the Police.

Mrs. Vieira's husband, Aldelino, had worked as a porter in St. Mary's Hospital, Paddington, for four years. The family had made arrangements to return to Portugal later this year.

With so many people afraid to walk the streets in Britain's big cities, mugging attacks on defenceless women and old folk in their own homes is now a rising trend.

Perhaps the most horrific example of such attacks — prior to the Vieira murder — was the depraved slaying of 63 year old crippled widow Mrs. Chris Easton on 13th February.

Mrs. Easton's naked corpse was found in her flat in the Streatham area of Lambeth, South London. She had been gagged, raped and then stabbed repeatedly.

These kind of attacks on old folk in their own homes are not confined to London. The trend is manifesting itself in multi-racial cities throughout the country.

On 19th March two muggers described as "Jamaicans" broke into the home of a retired couple, Albert and Ivy Manning.

They waited for Mr. Manning to come through the front door, then they threw him to the ground. They cut his trousers from him and tore away the pocket which contained £300 savings.

After this they threw Mr. Manning down two flights of stairs. His back was broken and he sustained other injuries to his neck and arm.

Mrs. Manning came to her husband's rescue, but she was battered about the face.

Our Old Folk have seen this country through two World Wars and the 1930's slump. Should we not be ashamed that we allow them to end their days facing this kind of alien terrorism?

T.V. LIES ABOUT NATIONAL FRONT EXPOSED

DURING recent years the mass media has worked overtime to try and bury the National Front under an avalanche of smears, distortions, misleading half-truths and whole lies.

In the face of this campaign the NF's Publicity Department set up a Press Relations Section whose job is to pursue complaints against the media and to win corrections wherever possible.

In this feature the Secretary of the Press Relations Section, Ernest Pendrous, reports on recent NF representations to the broadcasting media:

When the purchase of Excalibur House became known in 1978, Thames Television reacted. They could not apparently find venomous enough commentators among our home-grown Quislings — so they used Patrick Kodikara of the Hackney Council for Community Relations. He said:

"One's got to look at what they stand for. What do they stand for? They stand for race hate. They actively propagate race hate. And the effects of their work and what they say is to create violence in the area. Three murders: countless numbers of people actually attacked physically — and that's the record of the National Front in the area."

Martin Webster, Chairman of the NF Publicity Department, spent a long time on the phone, being passed from one fool-or-rogue to another in his attempts to get a reply that these were criminal offences, and that no NF members had been arrested for any such offence.

Thames TV then put on Peter Hain. He said:

"They've been allowed to intimidate communities like the Bengali community in Brick Lane. To attack it — to mount their racist thuggery. The National Front have had direct confrontations with Bengalis in the area. Their members have been convicted for beating up Bengalis. There've been three racist murders in the area."

Letters of complaint just brought back evasion and impertinence. But Thames Television have not had it all their own way.

A few weeks ago in reporting on Conway Hall, Thames News gave a back reference and said:

"In 1974 a student died in the so-called Battle of Red Lion Square — a riot outside the hall between Front and anti-National Front supporters."

Fortunately for us there had been a public inquiry. The Report by Lord Scarman (HMSO Cmnd 5919 February 1975) exonerated the NF.

We wrote to the Editor of Thames News (John Morrell). No reply.

We wrote to the Chairman of Thames TV (Lord Barnetson). No reply.

We wrote to the Independent Broadcasting Authority...

Somewhere behind the scenes something went on, because last week (with egg streaming down her face) Rita Carter had to read a correction:

"On January 13th Thames News wrongly reported that the National Front were involved in the Red Lion Square clashes. The Scarman inquiry concluded that the riot started when the International Marxist Group attacked the police. The National Front were a mile away at the time."

The NF made six complaints to the BBC Programmes Complaints Commission after the General Election. One of these, about James Callaghan (the former Prime Minister) has been avoided. Three were rejected. Two were upheld.

One upheld complaint related to the Nationwide programme put on about Southall.

Peter Hain (the political voice of the BBC?) said that Southall was "... an attempt by the National Front to deliberately provoke the situation," and that "these Black kids are subjected to daily harassment and attacks from the National Front and its supporters."

The Commission said that we should have had a spokesman on that programme to give a reply.

The other upheld complaint was about the Sunday programme on Radio 4.

A Southall clergyman, the Rev. David Bronnert, Vicar of St. John's, had said that the NF held an "offensive meeting" and he spoke of the violence "basically coming out of the frustrations felt through this handful of outsiders coming in for a bogus meeting..."

The Commission said that this programme also should have included or had a subsequent reply from the NF.

The full adjudication was published in The Listener on 13th March 1980. A summary appeared in Radio Times. The South East News (Radio 4) mentioned it.

We do not know if the Sunday programme acknowledged the false witness of one of their pet clergymen. We wrote asking producer (John Newbury) but he did not reply.

Nationwide producer (Ken Hughes) has not had the integrity to correct his programme's lies.

NF supporters may be interested to know that Peter Hardiman Scott, the BBC's top man in charge of political broadcasting, has been "loaned" to Marxist Robert Mugabe to help organise Zimbabwe's broadcasting services. This was done at Mugabe's personal request.

NF ACTION STOPS I.R.A. RALLY

PROMPT action by officials of the North West of England Regional Council of the National Front resulted in the cancellation of a pro-IRA rally in Tameside, Greater Manchester.

In February, Tameside NF Branch Organiser Mr. Frank Dawber learned that Tameside's Labour-controlled Borough Council had agreed to allow the Tameside Trades Council to hold a pro-IRA rally on Saturday 1st March in the Borough Council-owned West End Community Centre.

With the backing of the NF Regional Council, Mr. Dawber immediately announced that local NF members would stage a protest march against the meeting.

This announcement immediately subjected the Labour Council and their Trades Council friends to an intensive glare of hostile publicity.

Once public attention had been focussed on the plan to hold a pro-IRA meeting, NF Manchester Branch Organiser David Jones sent photocopies of a Trades Council leaflet advertising their meeting which had been circulated only to far-Left groups — or so they thought!

In addition to the usual "Troops Out! — Smash the Prevention of Terrorism Act!" propaganda, the leaflet stated:

"Support the Irish people — bring the war to Britain!"

MURDER INVITED

The leaflet also indicated that the rally would be addressed by a representative of the Irish National Liberation Army — the banned terrorist gang who murdered Airey Neave, MP, last year.

The publishing of this leaflet really caused the excitement to hit the fan! Questions were asked of Margaret Thatcher in the House of Commons and urgent talks between the Home Office and Manchester's Police Chief were held.

A mounting public outcry resulted in Tameside Borough Council cancelling its booking to the Trades Council. Labour Councillor George Newton said:

"The Trades Council did not give me the full picture at the time of booking the hall."

NEWTON'S LIES

This was an untruthful statement. Mr. Newton had originally pressed for the meeting to be allowed to go ahead despite attempts by Council officers to ban it.

Trades Council Treasurer said: "I am surprised the Council changed their minds — Mr. Newton was originally in favour of the conference."

After being banned from the Community Centre the Trades Council declared that their rally would go ahead on the scheduled date, but at a new secret venue.

Thus the NF pressed on with its plan to stage a protest march.

On Saturday 1st March more than 200 North West Region NF members — led by the Regional Drum Corps — marched through Tameside with Union Jacks flying.

About 70 Marxist IRA supporters staged a pitiful counter-protest, and six were arrested after a scuffle. No NF members were arrested.

After the march the NF crowd assembled in West End Park for a rally where they heard anti-IRA speeches from Andrew Brons, Chairman of the National Front, and NF Directorate member John Tyndall.

'SECRET' RALLY FLOP

It was learned later that the 'secret' pro-IRA rally which the Trades Council said they would hold (in the local office of the Amalgamated Union of Engineering Workers!) did not in fact take place.

Above: More than 200 NF members from Greater Manchester and Lancashire march against a rally of IRA supporters in Tameside. Below: After their march the NF members assembled in West End Park, Tameside, for an anti-IRA rally.

ated Union of Engineering Workers!) did not in fact take place.

It seems that the night before the proposed rally the Tameside Trades Council was telephoned by a "high official" of the Trades Union Congress — to which all Trades Councils are affiliated — who warned that if their rally went ahead they would be disaffiliated from the TUC.

Subsequent to this the TUC has taken steps to disaffiliate the Trades Council as it has been infiltrated by ultra-way-out Marxist revolutionary groups such as the Revolutionary Communist Tendency, the Workers Socialist League and the Socialist Workers Party — a set-up not appreciated by more 'orthodox' Labour and Communist Party Marxists within the TUC!

N.F. VICTORY

So after the NF had held a dramatic march and successful rally — winning oceans of good publicity — the Red pro-IRA traitors were reduced to holding an "on-the-spot" meeting on some waste ground (next to the Community Centre they had been banned from!) at which a whining "statement" was read out.

So much for people who say NF marches are "a waste of time" or "not respectable"!

By this initiative and spirit of activism, North West of England NF members and officials not only stirred up a hornets' nest in Parliament, the Home Office, the TUC and Tameside Borough Council — they stirred public opinion and were seen to win a political victory against the enemies of our country!

STAND BY BRAVE PETER BARKER!

WHEN fine young British lads like these join the Army and fight the Communist-backed terrorists of the IRA in Northern Ireland, they are heroes.

But when they leave the Army and decide to continue to oppose Red terrorists elsewhere in Britain, they run the risk of being clapped in jail for three years!

That is certainly what happened to Rochdale NF Organiser Peter Barker. Our picture shows Peter (centre) with some of his Army mates a few years ago.

He is now in Walton Jail, Liverpool. Unless an imminent Appeal is successful, he will be there for three years.

Because of the impending Appeal, we cannot detail his case.

But his jailing follows an incident in Rochdale where he and other NF members bravely fought off a vicious attack by a gang of Red terrorists who attacked NF literature sellers.

His father, Mr. H. Barker, wishes to thank NF News readers who have sent messages of support and who have contributed to a fund for the maintenance of Peter's wife and son.

We ask readers to continue to send their messages and donations, c/o 155 Todmorden Road, Littleborough, Nr. Rochdale, Lancs.

We believe that Peter was wrongly convicted after a farce of a 'trial'. If his Appeal is unsuccessful then the NF will mount a campaign for his release, starting with a march on Walton Jail.

We won't forget you, Peter!

Help develop ideology

IN accordance with Guidelines issued by NF Chairman Andrew Brons, the NF Policy Committee is now seeking the assistance of members with its Ideological Development programme.

Any NF member who feels strongly about ideological questions — that is, the philosophical basis or code of values from which our policies are developed — are invited to submit a paper to the Chairman of the Policy Committee expressing their ideas.

These papers should be no longer than 5,000 words. All submissions will be studied carefully and made the basis for appointments to an NF Political Research Group.

ANOTHER BOMB HOAX FAILS

AN attempt to prevent NF National Activities Organiser Martin Webster from addressing a meeting in Manchester on 30th March failed — thanks to his determined audience.

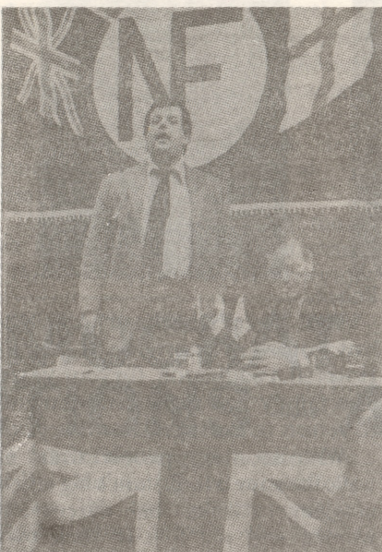

A hoax bomb threat was telephoned to the manager of the hotel where the Manchester Debating Society — supported by many NF members — had booked a hall.

The hoaxter claimed to represent the IRA, but his style was rather 'Green'. The manager took fright, ordered the meeting to close and called the Police.

A Chief Supt. warned the crowd: "Any who refuse to leave face arrest!" Mr. Webster turned to his audience and asked: "Hands up all who want to be arrested!"

WEST HAM SALES SOAR

TWO successful teams can be seen in action at Upton Park: West Ham football team — now through to the FA Cup Final — and Newham NF Branch's NF News sales team.

Branch members secure strategic spots near to the ground an hour before kick-off. During the past three months sales have built up rapidly to more than 200 per match.

This has stimulated brisk sales of Bulldog, Newham Front Page (the branch's news sheet) and NF badges.

Apart from recruiting new members, these sales drives have proved useful in mobilising support for NF marches.

Save the NF from wreckers

AFTER the Bristol race riot and looming mass unemployment, which true patriot can doubt the need for the National Front to be on hand in the coming crisis?

The Establishment is desperate to smash the NF before its time of opportunity comes. This is why it is essential for patriots to assist us in defeating the faction — nominally led by Andrew Fountaine (pictured) — which aims either to capture and 'Torify' our party, or failing that, to wreck it.

Help save the NF by supporting our Legal Fund.
